

Algeria Oran Photovoltaic Power Generation and Energy Storage Project

Overview

Algeria currently generates a relatively small amount of its electricity (e.g., three percent or 686 MW annually), from renewable sources, including solar (448 MW), hydro (228 MW), and wind (10 MW). Because Algeria needs to export (rather than burn) its hydrocarbon resources that support an overwhelming.

The Algerian government seeks foreign suppliers of new technology, technical know-how, and expertise in the following areas: Solar PV 1. Engineering for utility.

The Algerian solar power supply chain grew significantly in the last decade and now seeks to add IPP development, engineering and design capabilities, EPC.

This collaborative project between the Algerian company ENIE and LONGi, overseen by the Ministry of Industry and Pharmaceutical Production, aims to boost domestic solar energy production, stimulate job creation (with projections of 1,000 direct and 4,000 indirect jobs), and significantly reduce carbon emissions.
